OFFICIALS ANXIOUS FOR SAFETY OF THOSE REMAINING IN MEXICO

Report to War Department of the Union of Rebel and Federal Forces Was Expected Following Statement Made By General Carranza.

[Associated Press Cable.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, and other members of the government, have discussed at great length plans for raising the necessary revenue in the event it becomes necessary to move any great portion of the United States army against Mexico. What decision, if any, has been reached has not been officially announced.

ANXIETY FOR AMERICANS.

[Associated Press Cable.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—Great anxiety is felt in official circles over the lives and safety of all Americans remaining in Mexico, especially those who are unfortunate enough to still be in Mexico City. Reports reaching Washington are all to the effect that the anti-American feeling is hourly becoming stronger and more deep-seated and widespread.

HAWAII EXCURSION PARTY BUSY ON SHIPBOARD; VOYAGE HAPPY

Island Folk Take Prominent Part in Sports, Entertainments, and Other Features

By RILEY M. ALLEN.
(Staff Correspondence)
ON BOARD T. K. K. SHINYO MARU, April 5.—The voyage of the Hawaii excursion party from Honolulu has been unusually pleasant and though few noteworthy events have occurred, there has been no lack of interest, for if ever there was a ship and a set of passengers with facilities and dispositions for shipboard enjoyment, they are the Shinyo Maru and those aboard on this trip. Sports, dances, theatricals of all kinds, impromptu parties, all sorts of enter-

FEDERAL AND REBEL LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

[Associated Press Cable.]
BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Apr. 23.—All hostilities between the Federals and Constitutionalists at Monterey have been suspended. The leaders of the two factions now are conferring regarding the action of the United States.

FEDERAL TROOPS DESTROY R. R. AND TELEGRAPHS

[Associated Press Cable.]
EAGLE PASS, Tex., Apr. 23.—The federal troops have destroyed all railroad machinery, switches and telegraph instruments and lines at Piedras Negras and were only prevented from dynamiting the international bridge through the interference of the border patrol.

MEXICANS REINFORCE BORDER GARRISONS, MILITIA MOBILIZING

[Associated Press Cable.]
SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 23.—Late telegraph dispatches received here are to the effect that the Mexicans are reinforcing their border garrisons, both with men and with guns and ammunition. Four companies of militia, together with a machine gun platoon, have been mobilized at Calexico, on the border. These are four of the companies ordered out by Governor tainments have followed each other day and night.

Captain H. S. Smith, commander of the Shinyo, and everyone on board down to the last Chinese cabin-steward and Japanese deck-boy seem to have joined in making the voyage pleasant. Purser H. J. Grassett, "Daddy" E. L. Hawyes, the chief steward, and all the officers, in fact, are natural promoters of good times. The Shinyo is justly famous for its service under "Daddy" Hawyes, and the Hawaiian party has fared well indeed. The weather has been pleasant; only two days so far being really rough. One was last Sunday, the other today. The barometer is falling now and a very respectable storm is kicking up. The officers say it's merely "a light gale," but to land-lubbers it is quite heavy enough.

Luckily almost all the Hawaiian party are good sailors. Mrs. E. A. Mott-Smith has suffered a good deal from sea-sickness, but her husband, the former secretary of the territory, and chairman of the public utilities commission, is lively enough for both. Having shuffled off the mortal coil of office, he is enjoying himself hugely and is a leading spirit in keeping fun going aboard the ship. Prof. and Mrs. Scott have been entirely well, and Professor Scott declares that the cold weather and bracing winds of the past few days have given him five more years of life. He is as happy as a boy over the prospect of seeing the land where he spent 10 years building up the Japanese educational system.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kennedy of Hilo are also enjoying every moment of the trip and neither is daunted by the roughest weather.

"Those folks from Hawaii," as the rest of the people aboard call us, have done their share to furnish amusement and entertainment on the voyage and also their share to capture the really attractive prizes offered as awards for the winners. Mr. Mott-Smith was prominent in arranging and running off a two days' program of sports, in which Hawaii carried away considerably more than the expected proportion of prizes. Editor R. O. Matheson of the Advertiser starred in the sports events. Almost every member of the Hawaiian party took part in this program.

An interesting vaudeville program was given on the evening of April 2. Mrs. Kennedy, who has a fine soprano voice, sang charmingly, as she has done on several occasions. The program was as follows and it will be seen that Hawaii was well represented.

- 1.—Piano Solo, Mr. Stollerfoht.
- 2.—Reading, Mrs. Marks.
- 3.—Hawaiian Songs, Mrs. W. D. Westervelt, Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Mott-Smith, Mr. Kinney.
- 4.—Novelty Musical Sketch, Mr. Bonia.
- 5.—Speech in Hawaiian, Rev. Mr. Westervelt. Interpreted into Scotch by Mr. C. C. Kennedy.
- 6.—Vocal Solo, Mrs. C. C. Kennedy.
- 7.—Monologue, Mr. Hiscok.
- 8.—Story, Mr. Gorcham.
- 9.—Flute Solo, Mr. R. Yasul.
- 10.—Recitation, Mr. Dewey.

AMERICAN VESSELS SEIZED

Columbian and Nebraskan Taken By Mexican Mob at Salina Cruz—Naval Vessels Due Today May Effect Speedy Release—Steamers on Atlantic Coast Make Get-Away.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—The American-Hawaiian steamers Columbian and Nebraskan have been seized by a mob at Salina Cruz. Little doubt now remains but that a speedy release of the steamers will be effected. United States naval vessels which recently were ordered to Salina Cruz are due to arrive off that port today. All traffic on the Tehuantepec railroad has been blocked for an indefinite period. The American-Hawaiian steamers on the Atlantic coast have succeeded in getting away from Puerto, Mexico.

The foregoing cable was received from Washington, D. C., this morning by the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association. The last sentence is taken to mean that the American-Hawaiian steamers on the Atlantic side, which have been loading Hawaiian sugar at Puerto, Mexico, have succeeded in getting away from the port in time to escape any possible demonstration by the Mexicans.

The fate of more than $1,500,000 Hawaiian sugar is now in the balance pending the settlement of troubles between American and Mexican arms at the isthmus of Tehuantepec, according to a message received this morning through the agency of H. Hackfeld & Company, who represent the American-Hawaiian line at this port.

The freighter Columbian that sailed from Hilo for Salina Cruz with 12,000 tons of sugar, now at the isthmus, has been seized. The sugar taken by the Columbian is valued at $750,000. The American-Hawaiian steamer Alaskan sailed from Hilo on April 17 with a shipment of sugar of similar tonnage and value. As this vessel carries no wireless it will be impossible to divert the Alaskan to Panama as is now proposed.

That the American-Hawaiian line has been forced to discontinue calls at Salina Cruz and tranship sugar over the British owned Tehuantepec railway is now certain, following the receipt of the wireless message at Honolulu this morning. The text of the aerogram is as follows:

"Mailing following circular ships: 'Trouble between United States and Mexico at present interfering with Tehuantepec service. Wireless

EUGENE R. HENDRY, U. S. MARSHAL, IS SUMMONED TO LAST LONG SLEEP

Death Comes, Not Unexpected, After Illness That Lingered for a Long Time

Eugene R. Hendry, United States marshal for the district of Hawaii, died shortly before midnight last night, in Kaimuki, where he had been under the care of trained nurses for the past week. His demise was not unexpected, as it was known by his friends for some time that his condition was desperate. Bright's disease was the illness from which he died, and from which he had been a sufferer for a long time.

In spite of his illness, Mr. Hendry did not leave his office until about two weeks ago, when he went to Waikeiki, and was later taken by friends to Kaimuki.

Eugene R. Hendry was born in Calcutta county, Vermont, December 8, 1849, being therefore nearly 65 years of age at time of his death. He came to Hawaii in September 1876, and held positions with the custom house, and board of health, during the monarchy. For a time he was connected with the Pacific Hardware company, and later he established and acted as manager of the Hawaiian Hardware company.

After retiring from commercial life, he was again connected with the department of public health. On August 4, 1906, he was appointed chief deputy marshal, and on September 17, 1907, upon the death of Marshal Daniel A. Ray, he entered upon the duties of marshal, which position he held continuously till his death.

Marshal Hendry was secretary of the first Republican territorial convention and central committee, being re-elected to the latter position for a second term, but resigning upon taking federal office. When the late David McKinley, brother of President McKinley, became Hawaiian consul general for Hawaii in San Francisco in 1885, Mr. Hendry was commissioned to assist him in organizing his office. One of his duties was in the preparation of a comprehensive statement of the Hawaiian tariff as affected by the reciprocity treaty, and this he did from memory, and so perfectly that it required but a single correction before being put into use by ship-owners.

During his lifetime, Mr. Hendry was always an active fraternal man. He was a member of the Aloha temple, Mystic Shrine, and in other Masonic branches, was an Odd Fellow, a Knight of Pythias, and a charter member of the local Elk lodge.

When but 12 years of age, Mr. Hendry ran away from home and joined the Union army in the Civil war, as a drummer boy. He was put for several months, but his parents finally located him in New York, and he was returned home, greatly to his chagrin.

After coming to Hawaii on a pleasure trip, he decided to remain, and for a number of years he was located on the island of Maui, doing plantation work.

Mr. Hendry was married in the islands, but had been separated from his wife some 18 years. He was the father of two children, the son being at present in Cornell University, and the daughter with her mother in Switzerland.

GENERAL ORTOGA WITH BIG FORCE NEARING JUAREZ

Combined Rebel and Federal Forces Intend to Bring Attack Towards United States Line is Indicated By This Move—General Bliss is Expected to Rush Troops to El Paso Immediately

NAVY DEPARTMENT PLANS SEIZURE OF ROADS AND BRIDGES

American-Hawaiian Line Abandons Tehuantepec Railroad and Will Tranship Cargo from Pacific to Atlantic Over the Balboa-Colon Road

[Associated Press Cable.]
EL PASO, Texas, April 23.—Four troop trains, a train-load of horses, ammunition and other munitions of war are reported, on good authority, to have left Chihuahua for Juarez, under command of General Ortega.

This move is taken as an indication of the determination of the combined federal and rebel forces to bring the attack towards the United States boundary.

With Juarez directly across the river from this city it is anticipated that General Bliss will move a large force of troops into El Paso immediately.

WILL SEIZE RAILROADS.

[Associated Press Cable.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—The navy department is planning the early seizure of the railroads out of Vera Cruz and the bridges spanning the rivers along the railroad line to Mexico City. From latest reports these bridges are intact at the present time, but it is believed that General Maas may determine upon their destruction at any moment.

EMBARGO IS RESTORED

[Associated Press Cable.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—Following a careful consideration and a number of conferences between the president and members of his cabinet, at which have been present representatives of the army and navy, it has been determined that the embargo on all munitions of war across the border be restored. The order was issued this morning.

TEHUANTEPEC ABANDONED.

[Associated Press Cable.]
SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—Use of the Tehuantepec railroad has been abandoned, temporarily at least, and the American-Hawaiian company will use the Balboa-Colon line for the transportation of its cargoes to the Atlantic coast.

It has been found necessary to make this move to the South American line owing to the fact that there are no other trans-country railroads, that are considered safe at the present time.

WARSHIPS INTERCEPTED.

[Associated Press Cable.]
SAN FRANCISCO, April 23.—The Nevada and Pennsylvania, headed for the South, have been intercepted by wireless and given urgent sailing orders. The destination of these warships has been changed but they have now been instructed to sail for the coast of Mexico.
